Report of Trustees.

To His Excellency, JAS. E. CAMPBELL, Governor of Ohio.

DEAR SIR: In compliance with the provisions of the statutes, we, the Trustees of the Ohio Institution for the Education of the Blind, respectfully submit this, the fifty-fourth annual report of the said Institution.

The report of the Superintendent, of the Financial officer, and of the Physician, which are hereto attached, and go to form a part of this, will each serve to show, in detail, the condition of the several departments; so that it will be unnecessary for us to do more than to call attention briefly to their more important features and then to suggest such legislation and ask for such assistance as our experience warrants us in thinking the good of the Institution requires. This we now proceed to do.

The report of the Superintendent shows a falling off in the average daily attendance since last year; whilst that of the Financial officer shows but little decrease in the expenditures, and a higher per capita cost for maintaining the school.

This seemingly incongruous condition of affairs is due mainly to the increased cost of provisions; flour, vegetables, and fruit, having all advanced materially in value, and some of them two or three hundred per cent. from last year.

We mention this fact for the reason that the same condition of affairs is most likely to continue throughout the coming year, and on that account a more liberal appropriation may be necessary.

The report of the Financial officer gives detailed account of all expenditures, and shows the exact condition of every fund; two of which, namely, the steam heating fund and the Trustees' expense fund you will observe, has been exhausted; and a deficiency has had to be created. This is owing, in the former instance, to the "giving out" of one of our steam boilers, and, in the latter, to the great distance at which the Trustees reside from the institution.

The report of the Physician shows the general health of the pupils, at the present time, to be good; but we are of the opinion that some change in the ventilation and plumbing, as well as in the heating of the institution, would be a great guard against the probability of an epidemic in the future.

We have a most excellent corps of teachers, and our school is prospering nicely. The officers, also, seem to be especially qualified for their respective duties, and the best of harmony prevails throughout the household.

Mr. J. W. Monahan, the present steward, although having served but one month, has taken hold of his work as Financial officer with a firm hand, and hopes to be able to make a good showing in his department during the coming year.

It has been our care in the past, as it shall also be in the future, to provide our pupils not only with good and sufficient food, and the other comforts of life, but also with the best means of obtaining a good education.

We have endeavored to present to them such studies and such mechanical pursuits as may be of the greatest advantage to them in their contact with the world in after life; and to provide such books and apparatus as will the more readily assist them in accomplishing this end.

In the literary department there is no mechanical device so useful as the typewriter; and nothing comes so near to supplying eyes for the blind as the graphophone.

Nine-tenths of all their communications are with seeing persons, and nearly the same proportion of all their knowledge comes to them through the hearing. The type writer furnishes a ready means of communication, whilst the graphophone speaks to them and repeats the lessons they would learn until memorized.

The only mechanical pursuit taught in the institution outside of piano-tuning, if indeed, piano-tuning may be termed a mechanical pursuit, is broom-making, cane-seating and bead and fancy work though we contemplate others. Still piano-tuning and music seem to be the chief dependence of the blind as a means of support; and on that account we should have, not only a sufficient number of necessary instruments, but a sufficient number of teachers as well.

We could make most profitable use of six new type-writers, and an equal number of the graphophone, as well as two new pianos.

We urge, therefore, that the appropriation for "school books and apparatus" be made sufficiently large to enable us to supply these most needed articles; and that the slight increase we ask for in "salaries" may be conceded, that we may employ one additional teacher.

We call attention to the suggestions of the Superintendent with reference to having parents of blind children notified of the advantages of the institution; and in addition thereto, would say, we have had quite a number of applications for admittance to the school from persons who have become blind recently, and after the age of twenty-one years, but who, under the present law, are deprived of the privileges of the school.

We submit, therefore, whether the law ought not to be so amended as to admit such persons, between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-five, as would, in the judgment of the trustees, be benefited thereby, for a period of two years.

This, it seems to us, would be simply a matter of justice, for the law at present grants seven years to such pupils as may enter under the age of twenty-one, making twenty-eight their extreme limit of age for attendance; whilst those who become blind at the age of twenty-one are deprived of the advantages of the school at the age of twenty-two.

The Board of Trustees last year asked for sufficient funds to repair the walks and the front steps, but the appropriation made was found not to be sufficient to do the work; so we must now ask for an additional sum in order that the work may be completed.

The "giving out" of the boiler as mentioned in another part of this report, will, in all probability, make the purchase of a new battery of boilers necessary within the coming year; so we ask for a sufficient appropriation to guard against an emergency.

Two of our horses have also given out, and will have to be disposed of. We must, therefore, ask for the privilege of buying one; which, with the proceeds of the two, will enable us to keep up our teams.

Our gas supply for the last few years has been dreadfully deficient; so bad, indeed, that it is often impossible to read or write by it in the offices, or in any of the rooms in the institution. This, we think, is due to the great distance between the works at the Penitentiary and our institution; and probably in part to the smallness of the service pipe between the institution for the deaf and dumb, and our own. The difficulty we think might be overcome by increasing the size of the supply pipe referred to above, or by constructing a gasometer in the rear of our institution where a sufficient supply of gas might be stored during the day to light the house at night.

The following is an estimate of our requirements for the coming year:

Current expenses.....	$45,000 00

Superintendent's Report.

To the Honorable Board of Trustees:

I respectfully submit for your consideration the following, as the Superintendent's report for the fiscal year ending November 15, 1890 being the fifty-fourth annual report of the institution:

In the order arranged you will be informed of the number of pupils enrolled for the last term, for the fiscal year, and for the present term to November 15, including all new pupils admitted since September 11, a year ago, how the pupils are now employed, and the counties they are from.

It will be noticed that seventeen counties have no pupils here, and some of the populous counties have but a small number. Franklin county, with 36,022 children of school age (6 to 21 years of age), has twenty four pupils here, while Lucas county, with 33,149 children of school age, has but three; Cuyahoga, with 89,605 children of school age, more than two and one-half times the number in Franklin county, has but twenty-one, and Hamilton county, with 103,204 children of school age, has one less than Franklin county.

The query naturally arises whether the counties other than Franklin are giving to their blind children the privileges and advantages the State intends to afford them, or whether they are letting them grow up in inexcusable ignorance.

The law ought to compel the school enumerators of the State to report the names and addresses of all the blind children in their respective localities to the county auditors, and the latter to tabulate the same and send to the Superintendent of this Institution, that he may inform parents or friends the opportunities offered and afforded by this Institution for the education of the blind. The State is supporting this Institution at a cost to the taxpayers of nearly $60,000 a year, in order to educate the blind children of the State that are of school age. How can the parents of these children do them a greater favor than to send them here long enough at least to afford them a common school education. If they can not be made self-supporting, we can at least elevate them to the position of an intelligent citizenship, and less than this is deplorably un-American.

CHANGES AMONG OFFICERS AND TEACHERS.

A number of changes have been made since the last report. Several of the changes, however, are re-appointments from among those formerly employed in the Institution. *Dr. H. P. Fricker, of Ashtabula, has succeeded C. H. Miller as Superintendent; J. W. Monahan, of Corning, has succeeded R. W. Bell as steward; *Mrs. H. P. Fricker, of Ashtabula, has succeeded Mrs. I. L. Miller as matron; Miss Lizzie Perry, of Columbus, has succeeded Miss Belle Filler as girls' matron; Louis Kahn, M. D., of Columbus, has succeeded L. M. Early, M. D., as physician; Miss Lizzie Armstrong, who was a teacher here several years ago, has succeeded Miss Mary S. Pegram as teacher in the literary department; Miss Nannie B. Moore has been promoted from sewing teacher to that of teacher in primary department, in place of Miss Mary Cook.

In the musical department *Prof. Jacob Goehl has succeeded James McCombs as professor of music, *James McCombs has succeeded George Heinlein as music teacher, and *Miss Johanna Donovan has succeeded Miss Jessie Baker.

In the industrial department Miss Cora Walsh succeeded Miss Moore (promoted) as sewing teacher.

*Mr. Henry Haunstein has succeeded William Zink as teacher in the broom-shop.

As to the financial condition of the Institution, the expenses in detail, etc., during the past fiscal year, I would respectfully call your attention to the report of the steward, Mr. J. W. Monahan. I would also call your attention to the report of the physician of the Institution, Dr. Louis Kahn, for the amount and kind of sickness we have had, and as to the general health of the school at the present time.

In considering estimates for appropriations for the comfort and health of the school, I would earnestly ask you to recommend sufficient appropriation to have the radiators moved out of the walls of the building, where most of the heat is wasted in useless warming inanimate stone and mortar, into the rooms, so that they may be made more comfortable and healthful. Heat properly distributed and under suitable control is quite essential to one's well-being. To have good health we must have exercise, and this should be largely out-door exercise. To do this we must have walks; the present ones are nearly worthless, for they are quite worn out. The walks in both the north and south courts should be relaid, and ought to be not less than eight feet wide, and made of cement. A gymnasium would add greatly to the healthful exercise of the pupils, and I would recommend that the request so often made for an appropriation for a suitable building of this kind be included in your estimates.

The sanitary condition of the Institution is as good as circumstances will permit, and better than we really could expect. The ventilation is and has been for years faulty, and it is to be hoped that the Legislature may some day see the propriety of allowing us a sufficient appropriation to put the ventilating apparatus in shape to agree with modern teaching on this important subject.

The messenger of death visited the homes of several of our pupils during vacation. The first to fall a victim was Cora Fink, a bright, young lady, who left us last June for her home, not very well; but no one thought that in a few weeks the sad tidings would be wafted back to us that her bright hopes and promising future was to be arrested by a mortal illness. As a pupil she was studious and ambitious, and always dutiful and obedient. None knew her that did not respect her for her many commendable qualities. Soon followed the unwelcome intelligence that Margaret Perott had died after a short illness, and this sad news was soon followed by the surprising announcement that Isabelle Miller had also passed to the great beyond.

THE LAST DECADE.

It may not be without interest to note some of the changes that have occurred during the last decade.

The number of enrolled pupils on the 15th of November, 1880, was 93 males and 91 females; total, 184. On November 15, 1890, there are enrolled 115 males and 89 females; total, 204; a net increase of only 20 this year over that of 10 years ago. The new pupils present November 15, 1880, were 15 males, 13 females; total, 28. November 15, 1890, new pupils, 18 males and 18 females; total, 36; a difference of only 10. As the population of the State has increased nearly 500,000 in the same time, the figures would indicate that the percentage of increase of the blind of the State is at a low average.

It is to be hoped that as medical science increases its knowledge and treatment of eye and nervous troubles, that the average may be brought still lower. Blindness is a fearful calamity, and its prevention should arouse the efforts of the humane and those skilled in treating affections of the eyes.

Of the 184 pupils here ten years ago but 19 remain with us—10 boys and 9 girls—so that our present number of 204 would be mostly new faces to those who were in charge ten years since.

Time has also wrought changes among those who were in the employ of the Institution ten years ago. Of the 60 in number on the pay-rolls at that time only 10 remain. The present force numbers 69. We have an increase of 18 pupils and 9 employes, with an increase cost of $4,477.08, the pay-rolls of 1880 being $18,603.92, and for 1890, $23,121. The current expenses for 1880 were $34,729; for 1890, $41,870.40.

REUNION.

The close of the term for 1889-90, in June last, was immediately followed by a reunion of former pupils in good standing for the purpose of renewing friendship and relating the experiences of the preceding five years, that others might profit by the efforts that had led to success or proved a failure.

The reunion was one of the largest, most pleasant and profitable to those who attended, that the society has yet had. We trust great good may follow from the advice given by those who have been contending, not only for a living, but for a greater success in life. At this reunion we learned that many of the pupils were doing well, and a number were making a profitable success in their calling.

These were generally giving their time and attention to music in some of its various channels; others to tuning and repairing pianos. The advantage this latter industry affords the blind is well known and recognized by this school, and is made one of its leading features. In connection with this subject I would suggest that the Board ask and insist upon an appropriation for a sufficient number of pianos to meet the demands of the school at all times, both in the practicing and tuning-rooms. We ought at least to have two or three new pianos each year to meet this demand. Even to those where the piano may not be a means of profit, it will at all times prove a source of great pleasure and comfort to the blind.

INDIGENT AND HOMELESS BLIND.

“Institutions for the benefit of the insane, blind, deaf and dumb shall always be fostered and supported by the State, and be subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by the General Assembly.” Constitution, Article VII, Section 1.

The General Assembly has done nobly and well, from time to time, in providing for the classes mentioned in the above section of the constitution; and yet it has not done all that it ought to do, and probably will, when its attention is called to the subject, which I hope the Trustees will do in a most earnest manner in their report to the Governor. The section of the constitution quoted says: "Institutions shall be fostered and supported by the State, etc."

The language used in the constitution is more than permissive; it is a mandate, and a duty, when the circumstances arise, for the General Assembly to make the proper provision. Under this section of the constitution we already have a State school for the blind where they can get an education and learn several trades. A "Working Home for the Blind" has also been established at Iberia, good in itself, and useful so far as it goes; but as it will accommodate and furnish employment for only about thirty, it does not relieve very largely the class intended to be benefited. The school facilities are quite ample for the blind of the State, and will be for many years to come, but there is a class for whom no provision is made by the State, and which should no longer be delayed, viz.: the indigent and homeless blind. Their numbers are not so large, but what the State can amply provide for them in a suitable, comfortable and inexpensive manner. It does not need a large and costly asylum for this purpose, but might be arranged on the cottage plan in two or more places in the State.

The details can be easily arranged when the principle is once recognized, and the Legislature sets about doing this, one of the most humane of charitable acts. There is something shockingly repulsive in the thought that the State will give ten, twelve or fifteen years of schooling to the blind, burnishing up their minds with literary and musical accomplishments, and then trust to their making a living or going to the poor houses.

To be blind is not only a misfortune, but largely a helpless calamity, and no worthy blind person in the State should be without a comfortable and attractive home, and need not be if we, who are interested in their welfare, but do our duty.

The people of our State are noble hearted, generous and humane to a fault, and I feel that they are ready and willing to do their share as taxpayers when they have an opportunity.

I most earnestly commend this subject to your consideration and approval, and trust you will leave no proper effort untried to have the matter properly laid before the Governor and Legislature.

In closing, I extend to the officers and teachers my sincere thanks for their kindly assistance at all times, and commend them to your consideration for the zeal they have displayed in their trying work.

Suggestions.

To the Parents and Guardians of Blind Children and Youth:

The age at which it is best for children to enter the institution depends very much upon the circumstances of the families to which they belong. If they can be under good influences at home, can have the care of mothers and sisters, can take exercise in the open air, can be taught the use of words, can learn to count, and commence learning to read, it is unquestionably better for them to remain at home until they are ten years old; but if they can not receive proper care, and be taught some of these things, they should come at the age of eight or nine years.

The following are some of the things which may be learned at their homes:

1. To count and number, and to add, subtract, multiply and divide, etc.
2. The multiplication table.
3. To spell common words, beginning with monosyllables.
4. The meaning of common words.
5. The letters in raised and point print.
6. Items of general information. Every blind child of six or seven years old should know the points of the compass, the name of the town, county and State in which he lives, etc.
8. Hymns, verses of Scripture, and select passages of prose and poetry, which they can understand, should be committed to memory.
9. Singing common tunes.
10. There is no reason why a blind child should not commence attending the district or other school with his seeing brothers and sisters, and take part in the exercises in spelling, mental arithmetic, geography, etc; indeed, in every thing including reading where furnished with books suitable for the blind.

Blind children can learn every thing which can be taught by conversation, and by giving them an opportunity to examine and handle objects, just as well as those who have sight; and there is no reason why their education should not be commenced as early as that of seeing children. Indeed, instead of being neglected because they are blind, they should be taught with more care. Children who have pursued the course above recommended have entered the institution with as much knowledge and discipline as they could acquire in one or two years of tuition here, and their future progress is much more easy and rapid than that of those who have had no such training at home.

I will furnish a copy of the alphabet, in raised and point print, to the parents of any blind child who will give me their names and post-office address, and shall take great pleasure in giving any information which they may wish in relation to books or other things pertaining to the instruction of such children at home, or in regard to their admission to the institution. For such information, please address H. P. Fricker, M. D., Columbus, Ohio, Superintendent Institution for the Blind.

After pupils have entered the institution, it is important that they should be present every day while they profess to attend. There is but one session in the year. On account of the discomfort and the greater risk of health, etc., to the blind from traveling in winter, it has never been customary to have a vacation or recess at the holidays, and parents are earnestly advised not to encourage their children to think of visiting home at that time. We observe as holidays, Thanksgiving, Christmas, February 22d, and May day. These we endeavor to make as pleasant to the pupils as possible. Between Christmas and New Year the classes go on as at other times, and scholars can not be absent for a week or more then without great loss to themselves, and great inconvenience to teachers; much greater than would be the case with other scholars, because here the instruction is given almost entirely by the teacher, and the scholar who is absent can not make up the missing lessons by studying them from books. The only possible way is for the teacher to sit down and do all the work over again. If this is not done, the pupil must suffer the inconvenience of his loss during the remainder of the term.

It has been our constant aim to secure to our pupils the greatest possible amount of benefit from the time allowed them here.

If a pupil find it necessary to remain away from the institution for one or more terms, the common or district school should be attended when it is possible. The knowledge gained thus will be found a great help on resuming the studying here.

The blind are, for the most part, to spend their lives among those who have sight. It should be the aim of all who have the oversight of them to render them as much like the seeing as possible. They should be carefully guarded against forming any habits which will be disagreeable to others. The blind are always noticed by strangers, and their manners and habits observed more particularly than those of other persons; hence, it is a very great kindness to them to prevent them from acquiring unsightly habits, or to correct them if such have been formed.

Parents should be especially careful to prevent their boys from forming the useless and filthy habit of using tobacco. Be assured it is no kindness to them to be allowed, for the continuance of the habit here may be a good reason for sending them home to remain there until the habit is discontinued.

Much effort has been used to make the opportunities here provided known to the adult blind, and to induce them to enter as soon as possible after loss of sight. The importance of beginning, as soon as may be, to labor as blind men, can not be over-estimated. Every month's delay renders it more difficult for them to learn, and makes them more awkward, to say nothing of the moral influence of idleness, and the feeling of helplessness and dependence which must attend the person who feels that he is doing nothing for himself or others.

It has been customary to encourage our workmen to locate in the neighborhood in which they are acquainted, rather than to look to the institution for employment. The wisdom of this plan is proved by the experience of every year. A village of a few hundred inhabitants, with the surrounding country population, will usually furnish employment for a broom maker during the year, and the adjacent country will, in most parts of the State, produce all the broom-corn he will need, so that he can obtain his material at very little cost of transportation. For the last twelve or fifteen years hardly an individual of ordinary force of character, who has pursued this course, and labored with perseverance and industry, has failed to make a respectable livelihood, while many have succeeded as well as the average of seeing persons.

The experience of many men warrants the statement that any blind man who has energy, and is disposed to be industrious can in a short time learn to make corn-brooms, and become able to support himself. The machinery necessary to carry on this business costs only forty-five dollars. There are now in this State many blind persons who are earning from two hundred to three hundred dollars, or more, each year, instead of being supported in idleness, at a cost to their friends of two hundred to three hundred dollars per year.

Pupils are expected to be here at the opening of the school term in September.

Having been assigned to their classes at the close of the preceding term, delay in returning is unprofitable to the pupil and very annoying to the teacher.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

For the following papers and periodicals sent gratuitously to the institution, the proprietors will please accept thanks:

Virginia; The Companion, Faribault, Minnesota; Springfield Sunday News, Springfield, Ohio; Cincinnati Weekly Times, Cincinnati, Ohio; The Mutes' Chronicle, Columbus, Ohio; Herald and Presbyter, Cincinnati, Ohio; The Messenger, Talladega, Ala.

Terms of Admission, Etc.

Applications for admission should be addressed to the "Superintendent of the Institution for the Blind, Columbus, Ohio," and should state the name, residence, and post-office of the applicant's parent or guardian, and the supposed cause of blindness. Applicants must be between the ages of eight and twenty-one years. Their time in the institution is regulated by the statute of 1879.

Persons over twenty-one years of age, if free from bad habits, can enter the institution for one year to learn a trade. Persons of this class have an opportunity to hear instructive reading in the evening; they are expected to be present at Chapel session in the morning, and to attend church on the Sabbath, like other pupils. A man of active mind, and some acquaintance with the use of tools, can learn to make corn-brooms in six to nine months; some have done it in half that time. Those who have recently lost their sight, and who wish to learn a trade, should come here as soon as possible; every month's delay renders it more difficult to learn.

For residents of the State the school is free, no charge being made for board or tuition; but parents and guardians must provide their children with good and suitable clothing, and pay their traveling expenses, and should also deposit with the Steward a small sum for occasional expenses. For pupils residing out of the State the terms are one hundred and twenty dollars per annum, payable half yearly in advance.

The term commences on the second Wednesday of September, and continues forty weeks. The proper time for admission is at the commencement of the term.

Vacation continues twelve weeks—from the close of the term in June until the second Wednesday of September. Pupils are to spend the vacation at home, or with their friends.

When boxes or packages are sent to pupils, a letter should at the same time be sent by mail, stating distinctly how the same is to come, whether by stage or express, or as freight, and what route.

All letters to pupils should have, after the name, this address—
